Divorce Set Aside

Actor Brian Donlevy's divorce from Marjorie Lane Donlevy is set aside in Hollywood Superior court after judge ruled the actor's threat to expose his wife's alleged adultery unless she signed a property settlement was "undue pressure". (International)

Divorce Suit Is On File Against Brian Donlevy

Wife Files Suit When Actor's Decree Of Divorce Is Set Aside

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 1.—(INS)—A suit to divorce actor Brian Donlevy was on file today by former singer Marjorie Lane, who said she would "not stoop to the sordid vilification which has been used against me."

Less than 24 hours after interlocutory decree of divorce had been set aside, Mrs. Donlevy filed her cross-complaint on grounds of mental cruelty.

Donlevy has accused his wife of adultery with James Hannan, a New York socialite, and filed six photographs allegedly showing her in a New York hotel last December in what has been termed a "compromising situation." Ten affidavits also were filed to back up Donlevy's alleged charges.

Asks Child's Custody

Mrs. Donlevy asked for custody of her 4-year-old child, Judith, and declared:

"In making my fight for custody of my child, I am doing only what every good mother would do."

She requested the court give no recognition to a property settlement in which Donlevy claimed he allowed her $100,000. Mrs. Donlevy alleged $35,000 of the property settlement originally belonged to her and that she signed the agreement under coercion and duress.

In asking for a fair share of the property, Mrs. Donlevy said the actor received $150,000 a year for his film work.

She estimated their property to be valued at $250,000.

Donlevy's attorney said he would carry to the Supreme Court the ruling in which his interlocutory divorce was set aside.

Pa Newc Observes

Work of erecting snow fences along the miles of highway that are protected in this manner in Lawrence county during the winter, will soon be under way.

Lawrence county got something of a foretaste of what's to come later in the year, this morning, when temperature registered below 30 degrees in this area, and a heavy frost covered the countryside.

Some motorists in New Castle encountered heavy fog early this morning, while in other parts of the city there was no fog. On the north hill dense fog prevailed around 7:30 o'clock.

With October having made its entrance, many of the local hunting enthusiasts are perking up. It will not be long now until the annual hunting season makes its official debut, they relate.

Special Session Might Not Speed Stop-Gap Relief

See Possibility That No Program Could Be Adopted Until Regular Session

EXPECT CONGRESS TO MOVE SLOWLY

By FRANK B. ALLEN (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—A possibility loomed today that even with a special session of Congress President Truman's stop-gap European feeding program will not be enacted before the regular session in January.

Sen. Buck (R) Del., said he did not believe that even an emergency measure could be enacted in the short time remaining in the year after congressional foreign and appropriations committees finish their work.

Speed Not Likely

Two high democratic spokesmen agreed privately with Buck that Mr. Truman's stopgap request of 580 million dollars will not be handled speedily on the floor of Congress.

Supporting their view was the disclosure of Sen. Vandenberg (R) Mich., that when his foreign relations committee begins its hearings on Nov. 10 he expects to go over the long-range Marshall plan as well as the emergency relief legislation.

Vandenberg's plans are in line with his earlier criticism of the administration, in which he protested against "piecemeal" proposals.

The senator said that the long-range program must be studied in order to fit the relief bill into the whole picture.

Speculation continued over how soon, if at all, a special session will be called.

It was generally believed that, with the Senate appropriations (Continued on Page Two)

Everyone should give to the Community Chest, he pointed out, in an honest attempt to reach our set quota of $102,100. It is only in our wholehearted support of this campaign that we can show we are a progressive community, striving towards a higher plane, he added.

U.N. Assembly Seeks To Break New Deadlock

By PIERRE J. HUSS (U. N. Staff Correspondent)

FLUSHING MEADOWS, N. J., Oct. 1.—The United Nations General Assembly goes into another special session to try to break the deadlock and elect a 1948 successor to Poland on the security council.

At three p. m. the security council itself will meet at Lake Success to decide on the membership applications of five former enemy states, with prospects strong that Russia will wield the veto for the 21st time in barring Italy.

Postpone Committee Sessions

Scheduled meetings of the political and security committee and of the Palestine committee have been postponed until tomorrow to enable the plenary session to continue into the afternoon on elections to the trusteeship and economic and social councils.

The complicated situation at the U. N. was provoked by the bitter impasse of security council seat elections which developed after Argentina and Canada were picked for the vacancies opening on the 11-nation body at the end of the year by expiration of the terms of Brazil and Australia.

Seven Ballots For Poland's Seat

Seven ballots for Poland's seat failed to bring out the required majority of 38 votes either for the Soviet Ukraine or India, despite three appeals from the rostrum by Soviet Delegate Andrei Vishinsky to elect a slay country and thus preserve a fair "balance of cooperation" in the council next year.

President Calls On Entire Nation For Food Saving

Declares Nation Must Save 100 Million Bushels Of Grain To Aid Europe

VOLUNTARY PLAN FOR RATIONING SEEN (BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—President Truman called upon the nation today to eat less bread and reduce waste in food consumption to bring down high prices and enable America to feed starvation-threatened foreign countries.

The chief executive told his special citizens' food committee that "we must get prices down and help hungry people in other countries at the same time."

Mr. Truman said 100 million bushels of grain must, as a minimum goal, be saved by the American people. He stressed the point that only part of the saving can come from serving fewer slices of bread. He said the greater part must be saved out of grain fed to livestock.

Program Expected

Meanwhile, it was learned from White House sources that the committee headed by 38-year-old Charles Luckman is expected to ask:

1. Meatless Tuesday.
2. Eggless and poultryless Thursdays.
3. Utmost conservation of wheat.
4. A voluntary holiday on grain use by distillers.

In return to wartime practice, the committee also is expected to ask the nation's housewives to reduce waste to the absolute minimum and will assign Boy Scouts to "police the garbage cans."

Army Transport Bringing Bodies Of U. S. War Dead

By RAY COLL, JR. (U. S. Staff Correspondent)

PEARL HARBOR, Oct. 1.—The army transport Honda Knot steamed eastward across the Pacific today on a sad and solemn mission.

In neat array within her holds lay the flag-draped caskets of 2,992 Americans killed in World War II.

The comprised the first group of thousands of American war dead to be returned to their homeland for final burial in the cities, towns and hamlets where they once lived in peace before the scourge of war overtook their country.

Flag At Half Mast

Slowly the Honda Knot—her flag at half mast—moved over the vast bosom of the Pacific, as if not to disturb the sleep of those who lay below the decks.

The transport began her grim voyage from Pearl Harbor. It was fitting that the vanguard of America's returning war dead should be sent homeward from the spot where Japan's infamous attack plunged the United States into the global conflict nearly six long years ago.

Many of the lifeless aboard the Honda Knot were those who had perished at Pearl Harbor and Honolulu in those first fierce hours of the Japanese sneak assault. Others included those who had subsequently yielded up their lives in battles on many farflung fronts.

Postal Employees Are Signing In Loyalty Program

All Postal Employees Must Comply With President's Program Of Loyalty To United States

All employees of the local post office are being signed up in the Loyalty Program of President Truman, whereby Federal employees must show their loyalty to the government of the United States.

The program was announced by the president as a deterrent to the spread of Communism, and to weed out those who have gotten into governmental jobs, who do not hold allegiance to our government an obligation.

TO GET NEW STREET CARS

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Thomas A. Fitzgerald, operating trustee of the Pittsburgh Railways Co., today said Pittsburgh will get 100 new street cars as a result of approval Tuesday by the Securities and Exchange Commission of a $2,250,000 bond issue.

Fitzgerald said the trolleys will cost between $25,000 and $30,000 each. Seventy-five will be built by Westinghouse Electric in Pittsburgh and 25 by the General Electric Co. in Erie.

This morning when I awakened, the world seemed virgin white, the frost had hit, and how it had, at some time through the night. The temperature was freezing or it was nearly so, and first I thought the winter had sent in some early snow. I thought of sleds and ice ponds, and kids with gleaming skates, and happy youngsters fleeing by with all their lovely dates. 'Twas only frost, but made you believe it's good to be alive, a sparkling frosty autumn morn, the weather's fifty five.

Kidnaping Charge Facing Abductor Of Police Chief

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Oct. 1.—(INS)—Police Chief Wayne Elliott of Allentown will enter kidnaping charges today against a young reform school parolee who abducted him at gunpoint yesterday as a cordon of heavily-armed policemen stood by helplessly.

Chief Elliott, held hostage by Erbor Julius Worsecck, 23, for nearly four hours but not harmed, said his captor was being held in Lehigh county prison pending court action.

Besides the kidnaping charge, Chief Elliott said additional charges of resisting arrest, resisting a policeman, larceny of an automobile, burglary, carrying concealed weapons, and wantonly pointing firearms would be lodged against Worsecck.

Most of the charges stem from the abduction of Chief Elliott after Worsecck would not allow himself to be questioned about a series of safe robberies.

CHILD WHO WON POLIO BATTLE IS DROWNING VICTIM

committee not meeting until mid-November, a special session could not come before Dec. 1.

One Democratic spokesman, however, said privately that he foresaw a possibility that the GOP leadership might see an opportunity to take the initiative away from President Truman and call an earlier session—perhaps by mid-November.

On the other hand, Sen. Taft (R) declared that a special session before Dec. 1 appeared unnecessary.

Sen. Buck accused President Truman of "ducking responsibility" by putting the emergency relief issue in the hands of congressional committees. Buck said:

"I think it is the chief executive's duty to call a special session, send up a message stating the situation and recommend specific legislation."

Miss Helen Sagabiel accompanied the church choir who offered two appropriate anthems:—"My Jesus I Love Thee," Holton, and "Tis So Sweet To Trust In Jesus," Kirkpatrick.

Following the service, there was a reception for members and friends of the congregation. Dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Irwin Ropp's Bible class. An attractive course of autumn flowers was presented in behalf of the congregation to Mrs. C. A. Underwood by Mrs. Glenn Rowan.

Before coming to New Bedford, the newly-installed leader concluded a successful twelve and a half years' pastorate at the Memorial Presbyterian church, of Lancaster.

About 13,000,000 persons in the United States are now being served by frozen-food locker plants.

First Methodist Church Gives Reception For Rev. J. A. Gaiser

Members and friends of the First Methodist church extended a hearty welcome to the new pastor of the church, Rev. James A. Gaiser and Mrs. Gaiser at a largely attended reception in the church Tuesday evening.

Guests assembled in the auditorium, which was decorated for the occasion with vases of mums, palms and ferns, and greeted the new minister in the reception line in front of the altar. In the receiving line with Rev. and Mrs. Gaiser were representatives of the various church organizations and departments of the Sunday school. Dr. Thomas H. Morris, superintendent of the Grove City district, and Dr. D. L. Ferguson, representing the New Castle Ministerial Association.

During the program of welcome, J. Carl Miner, lay leader of the congregation, presided and extended greetings to the new minister. Others who spoke briefly were Dr. Ferguson for the Ministerial Association, Mrs. Ralph Reed for the Women's Society of Christian Service and Dr. Morris. Rev. Gaiser responded to the messages of welcome.

Musical highlights of the program were cello selections by Thomas Wiant, "Ave Maria" by Schubert and "Scherzo" by Vau-Goen, with Edwin Lewis as accompanist, and two numbers by the church quartet to bring it to a close.

The quartet, Mrs. W. P. Felch, Mrs. Agnes O'Neill, Earl Hammond and Samuel R. McCleary, sang "Morning" by Oley Speaks and "Climbin' Up the Mountain", a negro spiritual. Music of the evening was planned and directed by Edwin Lewis.

Invited to the dining room for refreshments, the assemblage found it a bower of flowers formed by numerous bouquets of colorful fall flowers.

Decorations were in charge of Mrs. James W. Moorehead, Mrs. Helen C. Weaver and Mrs. W. L. Beal. Mrs. W. A. Hoffmaster supervised the tea table decorations and refreshments, served by young people of the young people's department, were in charge of Mrs. Martin R. Hornung and Mrs. James Elmore.

Rev. and Mrs. Gaiser, who came to New Castle in September from a pastorate in Westfield, N. Y., have taken up residence in the church parsonage at 406 Glenmore boulevard, with their young daughter Carol and son James.

MUSIC CLUB OPENS WITH PROGRAM-TEA

Opening meeting of the Music club took place Tuesday evening, September 30, in Highland U. P. church, when the following artists, introduced by Mrs. Jay L. Reed, hostess for the evening, presented a program of high artistic merit: Mrs. George Strehler, contralto; Andrew Lisko, violinist; George Peacock, baritone; Mrs. J. E. Ginsberg, pianist. Their numbers were enthusiastically received by a large and appreciative audience.

Accompanists were Mrs. John F. Love, Miss Olga Booth, and E. E. Branstetter. Ushers for the evening were the Misses Elizabeth Emery and Ruth Hayden and Mrs. Benjamin Agnew.

Preceding the program, at a short business meeting with Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith presiding, new members were welcomed into the club. Mrs. Smith thanked the program committee, Miss Kathryn Bittner and Mrs. H. W. Helmick for the fine programs prepared for the year's work.

Afterward a social time was enjoyed with tea served from a prettily appointed table centered with autumn flowers flanked by lighted tapers. Pouring were Mrs. Dorothy Gormley Smith and Mrs. George Strehler.

Aides were Mrs. Jay L. Reed, Mrs. Gerald Nord, Mrs. Elan Kaplan, Mrs. Wilbur Flannery, and Miss Maude Mitchell.

Next meeting will be October 28 when a program of classic music will be presented with Mrs. Robert Fleming as hostess.

ROSE DEMOFONTE WEDS J. BORDONARO

Miss Rose Demofonte, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Demofonte, became the bride of James Bordonaro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Bordonaro of 907 South Mercer street, September 27 in St. Vitus church.

Vows were exchanged at 8 a. m. in the presence of friends and relatives, and Rev. Fr. Nicholas DeMita officiated, using the double ring ceremony. Ferns and flowers embanked the altar.

Given in marriage by her brother Joseph, the bride was lovely in a colonial gown of white satin, with hoop draped skirt caught with orange blossoms, trimmed with Chantilly lace around the neck and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of strand pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid. Her only jewelry was a ringstone necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Little Geraldine Pico and Donald Bordonaro led the bridal party, dressed as a tiny bride and bridegroom.

Miss Carmela Ciazza as maid of honor wore a blue chiffon gown and carried red roses. Bridesmaids were Kay Elisco, Genevieve Marozzi and Jane Rybka, who wore pink chiffon gowns and carried red roses.

Norman DeGleano was his uncle's best man. Ushers were Philip Bordonaro, Paul Panarella and Lawrence Scarazzo.

The wedding breakfast was served at the Bordonaro residence, and a dinner followed in a local tearoom for the relatives. The reception was held at the Ecclesian club.

Mr. and Mrs. Bordonaro departed on a wedding trip to Chicago and will reside in their newly furnished apartment, 219 Home street, upon their return.

NEW TRAFFIC HAZARD TO BE CREATED

When the new stretch of Route 422 from the end of Sampson Street to the Ohio line is opened, a fine new highway will be added to the road system in this county.

But the opening of the new route, which will put traffic down Sampson Street into Grant offers a traffic hazard as the street is presently situated.

Sampson Street at the corner of Grant Street is narrow and the turn into Grant is a ninety degree turn. Truck traffic will find it difficult to make the swing unless the truck is headed over into the opposite lane of traffic.

There is ample opportunity to round the corner at Grant and Sampson and thus eliminate possibilities of traffic jams and accidents. It would seem logical that such a step should be taken.

RETURN TO VEGETABLES

As a result of Europe's inability to sustain itself, the drouth and this nation's short corn crop, an enforced revival of vegetarianism seems to be in the offing. Experts who have tried to forecast the pattern of the months ahead see a brief period of bulging butchers cases because meat animals will be marketed as a result of high feed prices.

After that there will be a 10 per cent or 20 per cent decline in meat supplies during 1948 and another big decline in 1949. In the nation's large cities talk of meatless days has been revived.

When the supply pinch comes, housewives will become tired of competing at the meat counters for insufficient roasts, steaks and chops at soaring prices and will rediscover virtue in the succulent bean, the vitamin-crammed tomato and the nothsome sweet potato.

Corn, beans and sweetash will win some "or else" attention from the meat, gravy and potatoes man. Malignant spinach and the lowly turnip will come into their own. A man is going to fill his stomach and if that sublimation of the vegetable diet—meat—isn't available, then the inner man is going to be fortified with the things that make meat.

Perhaps people will make a fair and unjaundiced test of the vegetable diet to see whether there are all the beneficial results the vegetarians claim. But of course there will be unreconstructed rebels who will proclaim that they wouldn't have had to do it if the politicians had done this and so, and if the administration hadn't shipped everything to Europe.

EASY DEBT—HARD PAY

Economically, the postwar era is following the pattern etched by history in all its facets. People not only take in more money in inflationary times but they borrow more. Personal indebtedness is increasing rapidly in this country, which portends trouble when price and wage trends turn lower.

Personal indebtedness, as represented by home and farm mortgages, consumer credit and life insurance policy loans, totalled $40,700,000,000 in 1929. Everybody remembers how difficult it was for most people to pay those debts after the crash. In many cases it was impossible.

Depression liquidation, followed by high war income, had carried personal indebtedness down to $32,700,000,000 in 1944. But the total stands today at $45,000,000,000, an all-time high.

Urban home mortgages have increased 38 per cent in three years. There is little change in farm mortgages because of high farm income. People are wary of increasing their loans against life insurance policies, too. But consumer credits have doubled since 1944.

It is not to be forgotten that these debts are incurred by borrowing cheap money—a dollar worth 50 cents or less. Should the dollar regain a purchasing power of 75 cents in the not distant future, it will be hard to earn repayment dollars. Every American had this lesson impressed upon him in the 1930s.

But perhaps this era will be the exception that proves the adage that what goes up must come down. Perhaps prosperity, this time, will be permanent. Perhaps there will be no more depressions.

Perhaps.

No one is booming himself for the vice presidency, unless Wallace has designs on the communist nomination.

In spite of the fact that a great many men go bare-headed, more of them than ever seem to be talking through their hats.

Chicago woman who married a man because he could sing and now wants to divorce him probably wishes she had bought a canary.

French designers claim short skirts were a result of war, and should be relegated because people want to forget war. And also that women have knees?

Hints On Etiquette

The name Ignatius has associations with the Ignatius of Loyola, who lived at a time when the Latin names prevailed as much as Greek ones in the Asiatic portions of the Roman empire. It is thought that the Latin word "ignis" (fire) is the most satisfactory derivation of the name.

Bible Thought

Beloved, let us love one another: for love is God, and every one that loveth is born of God, and knoweth God.—1 John 4:7.

U. S. Aid To Greece Becoming Evident

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 1.—Virtually all the Americans who will work with the American mission for aid to Greece—conveniently shortened to AMAG—are now on the job here in Athens. It has been a long hard pull since that momentous date of March 10 when President Truman first announced the program.

There have been many disappointments along the way. Getting the right man for the right job has been difficult and at times impossible. Yet the group, as finally assembled, is well above average.

It includes many younger men of proven ability who, out of a sense of duty, were persuaded to come. Philip F. Maguire, director of the foreign trade and supply division in AMAG, held a number of responsible positions in government in Washington before he went as assistant to the president of a large corporation. Herbert P. Landsdale, Jr., had 14 years experience in Greece with the YMCA from 1925 to 1939.

Former Governors Both men are former governors of Nebraska. Aid Director Dwight Griswold chose as his deputy Robert L. Cochran, who was governor from 1934 to 1941. The current wisecrack is that you can find as many Nebraskans in Athens as there are Missourians in Washington.

Griswold is hard working and completely unspectacular. He does very little talking either on or off the record. The impression he gives is of a man who knows he has a tough job and is getting down to it in a hard, slogging sort of way.

Griswold and his wife have thus far evaded most of the invitations showered on them by the elite of Athens. The social lobby here is as well heeled, as persistent and as insidious as its counterpart in Washington.

What he may lack in imagination and boldness, Griswold makes up in sheer determination and perseverance. That, at any rate, is the view of a former associate who is now a member of the mission.

You could never mistake the director for anything but an American and a middle westerner. Rios-pastis, the Communist paper in Athens, calls him Gaultier Griswold and sometimes Super-Gaultier Griswold. Nothing could be more ridiculous in view of the

STRANGE TIME FOR GLOATING

President Truman's smug denunciation of the Republican claim of economic disclosure particularly attacking those related to the continuance of superfluous bureaus and agencies established on the plea of war emergency necessity. A conscientious effort was made to return the national budget to a peace-time normal. Everybody knows that all civilian appropriations should be less in time of peace than in time of war. Everybody also knows that there is no excuse for continuing army and navy appropriations on a basis of war needs. It was proven in Congress that the cost of maintaining the armed forces under the proposed Truman budget would be only a few dollars less per man in 1948 than it was in 1944, when car expenses included transportation, feeding and equipment of army and navy personnel all over the world.

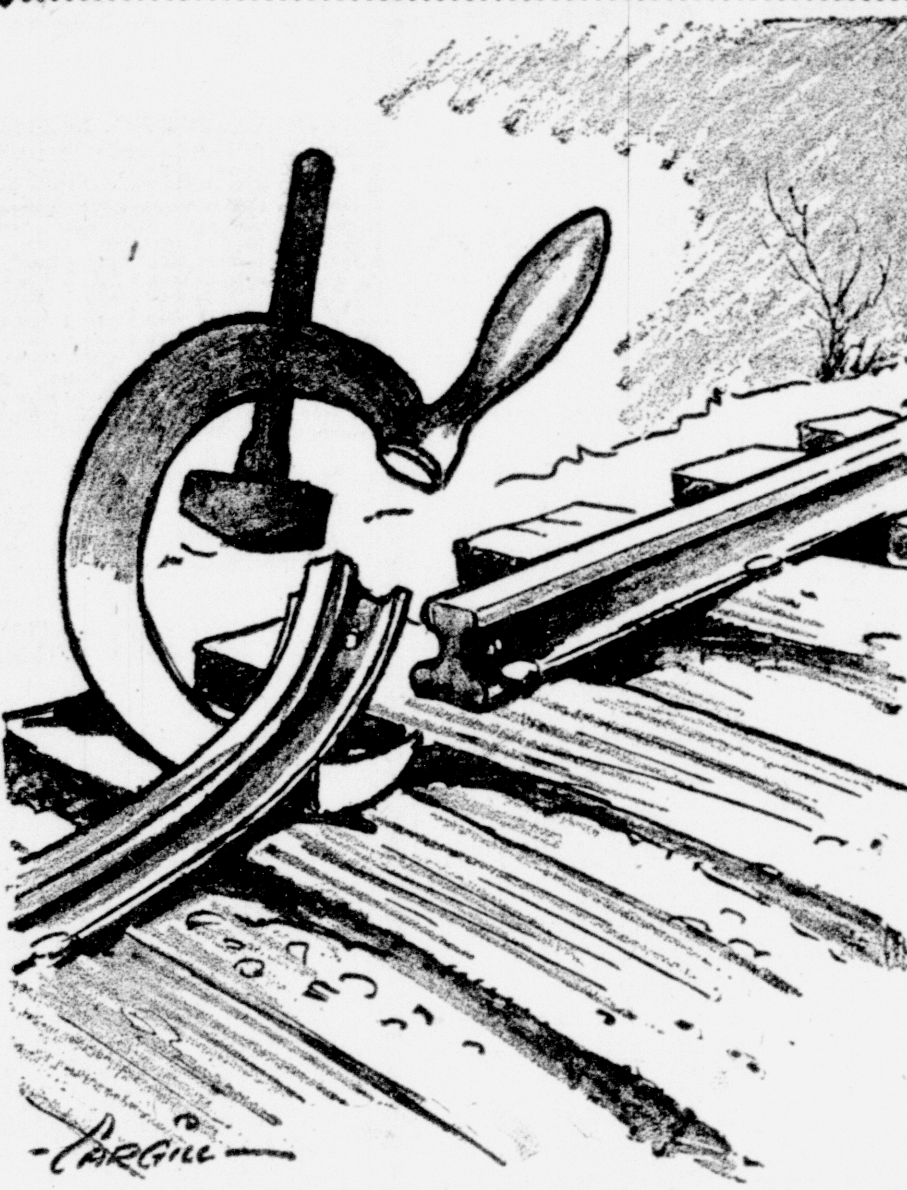

The public must know—although the President overlooks it completely—that the efforts of the Republican majority to reduce federal outlays was blocked only by himself and his supporters in Congress. It seems the height of absurdity for him to minimize—even ridicule—the amount of savings accomplished, in the face of his insistence on his huge budget and the Democratic opposition to its reduction.

Attempt To Belittle Mr. Truman's caustic attempt to belittle the savings undertaken by Congress must strike many citizens as a sort of political perversion. No sane interpretation of the November Congressional elections can avoid the conclusion that the people overwhelmingly desired a drastic cut in peacetime expenditures. The spectacle of the chief executive not only discounting the attempted savings, but actually gloating over what he terms an unsuccessful effort, presents something new in American politics.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TEACH CHILDREN TOLERANCE

I have a warm place in my heart for the rural church and happy memories of my parents.

When I was a lad I went with them and my brothers and sisters a lot of us—to a country church. Sometimes I might have chosen to stay home but as everybody else in the family went and it was the thing to do I went, too.

Preaching Services

In that church were preaching services every other Sunday and Sunday school before church. In the opposite direction about a mile away was another church of a different sect, where there were Sunday school and church on alternate Sunday mornings. Each church also had Sunday school in the afternoon every other Sunday. So I got two doses of Sunday each week, though the lessons were the same, sometimes presented from a slightly different angle. That was some years ago. I am 63 now. There were not many other places to go then and no easy way to get there.

Then there was a third church of a still different sect a few more miles away, which we occasionally attended. A leader from that church taught my Sunday school class in another church. He seemed to know the Bible by heart and I liked him and always looked up to him as a man of great wisdom and integrity. He was a carpenter and farmer and sometimes mended shoes, including mine.

Near my home also was a Catholic family, the father and mother of whom my parents and the whole community looked up to. They sometimes visited in our home and we in theirs. While our own family were growing up years later our closest and dearest neighbors were a large Catholic family.

Our farm produce we sold to a Jewish merchant, Jacob Sachs, six miles away and from him we also bought many supplies. Everybody seemed to consider him a very upright man. I remember eating a meal with my parents in the Sachs' home and their dining in our home.

Fortunate Children

As I look back I think we children were peculiarly fortunate in having such experiences through which we gained an appreciation of other people with very different upbringing and religious faiths and practices. For this gain I think our parents, very devout in their own faith, were most responsible. One does not need to be less loyal to one's own convictions in order to appreciate the convictions and faiths of others.

Most children today mingle in the immediate neighborhood or at school with children whose parents represent all sorts of different faiths and backgrounds. If

From Me To You

By MESEALL

There seems to be determination in official headquarters . . . Washington is stirred up and plans are progressing at a rapid pace. The people of these United States are being asked to cut down on their food consumption so that more foodstuff might be sent across the big pond. It has been suggested by some expert in Washington that you eat the following for breakfast Thursday morning:

Canned Grapefruit Juice	Choice of Cereal (milk)
Eggs (cooked favorite way)	Toast
Butter or Fortified Margarine	Preserves
Coffee or Tea (grown-ups)	Milk (for children)

According to what we personally consumed this morning . . . we have a credit . . . for a piece of toast, glass of fruit juice and a cup of hot tea doesn't stack up with the above.

For Luncheon tomorrow you are asked to eat:

Baked Macaroni and Cheese	String Beans
Butter or Fortified Margarine	Hard Rolls
Applesauce	Cookies (milk)

And for dinner in the evening . . . the following is very easy to prepare, they say . . . don't ask how to make all of the items:

BEEF LIVER	PATTIES
Baked Potatoes	Baked Acorn Squash
(Baked together in a 400F oven)	Sliced Tomatoes (French dressing)
Bread	Butter or Fortified Margarine
Grape Supreme with Top Milk	Sponge Cake (milk)

The above has been tested in the Good Housekeeping Institute . . . and guaranteed to save money and food. Maybe now would be a good time for this fat scribe to take off a few pounds.

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

Am I happy?

Was I worried?

"Men's Drape Trend To Stay for While" says a headline in this morning's newspaper, and here I have been stewing and fretting for weeks over whether we men, too, would have a longer pants line and whether the padding in our shoulders would be more pronounced than it has been during the last five years. (Come to think of it, five years ago is about the last time I bought a new suit of clothes and, believe it or not, that suit is still as stylish as it was five years ago when my wife told me I looked awful in it.)

Yes, the good news came today. The National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers has issued an edict that present fashions for men will stay for awhile, and thus the only reason for buying a new outfit would be that the old one is falling to pieces.

The "low-roll one-button double-breasted suit (one button on each side), a drape shape item", will be the most desirable garment, according to the association.

I have no "one-button" suit, but a couple of "two-button" suits have come off. So, instead of having the tailor sew them back on, I'll just leave the darn thing the way it is and be a well-dressed man.

Oh, by the way, if you want to know any more about men's fashions, chevrons and sheltans in herringbone patterns will be the most popular materials.

But don't get scared. "The business committee of the association believes that most merchants will follow the consumer preference for worsteds."

I wonder how many men have a "consumer preference for worsteds."

"Personally I don't know the difference between a worsted and a sheltan any more than I know the difference between one tomato and another, and a herringbone, as far as I am concerned, is something you get in a dressmaker's store and not in a tailor shop."

To me, getting a new suit or a hat is something akin to agony. In all my life I don't remember ever having discussed clothes with any other men.

Men talk about politics, golf and women.

But women? Oh, they talk about men, too. But, after agreeing that men are good, which takes up about five minutes, the rest of the afternoon is spent talking about clothes, clothes, clothes.

I am quite sure that the average woman would much rather spend

WHAT IS LOVELINESS?

"I know a woman of whom everyone says: 'She is lovely.' Please define 'loveliness' in a woman and just how one goes about attaining it."

Answer: For the most part, loveliness is an acquired quality. No woman is born with it; but some have a congenial charm which develops it. In others, it becomes an acquired characteristic. They are brought up in an environment conducive to its development.

Regardless of any lack of hereditary graces and proper environment, any woman can establish for herself a reputation for being lovely. But it requires great effort and self-discipline.

All symptoms of temper must be eliminated. A sullen or angry expression is an unlovely sight for anyone to behold. Gossip must never sully your tongue, for it is impossible to be lovely and catty at the same time. All forms of selfishness and meanness must be conquered if you wish to be lovely.

Once these defects are recognized and eliminated, loveliness is yours, if you have the perseverance thus to acquire it. This does not of course mean that you should develop an affectation of charm to put on and off as the occasion warrants, such as some people's "nonchalant" reserved for special occasions.

Loveliness is the most precious and valuable of the feminine attributes. It is worth a try. Don't you agree?

DOWN IN THE DUMPS

Some people get the blues once in a while. They get down in the dumps and do not feel very good. Usually if they fix themselves up a little, they feel better.

It is the same way with a home or a village or a school or a city. It is a good thing for a school or town to be neat and clean.

Garbage and rubbish scattered around do not help much. City dumps need to be looked after the same as the fire department.

Good health and sanitation mean freedom from disease. They also mean comfort and contentment in body and mind.

The church seems to help a lot in keeping a community in good condition.

Inside Washington

Voluntary Rationing Plans Doomed, Officials Fear 'Eat Less' Program Failed Despite Beginning Some Plans No Aid To Easing Shortage

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—Many government officials are doubtful whether any proposed voluntary rationing system could be made to work successfully enough to ease the present food price situation. These officials point out that the government's last attempt to conduct a voluntary rationing program turned out miserably when public opinion refused to support the idea.

They refer to the appeal issued nearly two years ago by President Truman's Emergency Famine Relief committee, calling upon Americans to eat less bread.

The committee, headed by Chester Davis, with Herbert Hoover as honorary chairman, made little headway toward convincing the American people that they should eat less, to make more food available for famine areas.

In fact, after a whirlwind start amid a flood of publicity, the "eat less" program finally died out with few accomplishments to its credit. The public just didn't take to the idea.

There is much doubt in Washington that any future voluntary program could hope for more success. Incidentally, the proposal for a voluntary rationing program now is strongly supported by Davis.

Many administration leaders believe that some definite program of federal control must be instituted if the nation is to combat high prices and at the same time provide food for the world. They insist that voluntary programs won't work.

FRIENDS OF SPEAKER JOE MARTIN, (R), Massachusetts, discount reports that he is a candidate for either spot on the 1948 Republican ticket. They say he is satisfied with his present position and has no desire even to head next year's ticket.

The only reason for his western jaunt, during which he will deliver a series of speeches, is to help strengthen the Republican cause, they maintain.

Martin's intimates do not rule out the possibility, however, that a deadlock at the convention might result in Martin emerging a dark-horse winner. In which event, they say, he would not refuse the honor.

But they insist he is not seeking it and has no personal belief that he will receive it. In any event, they say, he is not interested in the vice presidential nomination.

In the House, he is the "boss," while as vice president he would be merely a figurehead presiding over the Senate.

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT EXPERTS cannot see how restoration of wartime "gray bread" or restrictions on beer and whiskey production could ease the present food shortage.

They consider the institution of "gray bread," through imposition of controls on the extraction rate of flour during the war, purely as a "psychological" measure which failed because of public resentment.

As for brewing and distilling, they point out that the wartime controls were imposed to prevent the beer and whiskey industry from building up low stocks at the expense of other grain users. Brewers and distillers' stocks are at a high point now so no need exists for them to take up a large part of the grain supply.

In any event, the department asserted that it has no authority to restore such controls, that if the restrictions are put on again, it will have to be done by Congress.

Senator Ralph E. Flanders (R), Vermont, who suggested the controls be re-instituted, emphasizes that it was merely his personal idea, that he knows of no organized movement to effectuate the move.

In View Of The News

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

The accident to the United States destroyer Fox, which struck a mine in the territorial waters between Venice and Trieste, served to highlight the hazards invariably attendant upon military and naval commitments abroad.

It occurred at a moment of severe dispute between Soviet Russia and the United States with regard to the propriety of American maintenance of forces abroad, especially in Greece.

Greek Foreign Minister Constantin Tsaldaris, on behalf of his nation, took sharp exception of Russia's demand for withdrawal of American and British troops.

Risk Involved

He characterized those forces as a necessary bulwark against revolutionary communism. His description of the determining manner in which the Communists are going about their campaign of disorder and rebellion served to emphasize the inevitable risk to life and limb involved in any military operation whatever.

In all probabilities, there will be a sharp new dispute regarding the Fox incident.

Possible provocation may be suspected, and in any case the question will be asked whether the mine actually was a Second World War relic or a weapon sent adrift by some country violating agreements and endangering the cause of peace.

British Navy Hit

It was less than a year ago that the British navy suffered the loss of 40 lives when two destroyers hit mines in the Corfu channel and touched off a violent controversy between Britain and Albania that is yet to be settled.

It will not be forgotten that troops like the Queen Mary and Queen Elizabeth, whose great speed made them contemptuous of submarines, travelled throughout the war with huge electro-magnetic cables enshrouding them as a necessary protection against there inanimate but menacing prowlers of the seas.

Some naval experts believe it may be another ten years before all of the world's traffic lanes, particularly in such heavily-mined areas as the Mediterranean, are definitely and finally cleared.

Mine-sweeping is a difficult and perilous operation. Modern science has made it far less of a hit-and-miss proposition than during the First World War.

But there still may be a good many vagrants here and there in the world's waters that may be dislodged and sent to the surface.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Police today sought two well-dressed "con" women who tricked a Pittsburgh woman out of her life's savings of $1140 through one of the oldest confidence games in history—the found money scheme.

Mrs. Williams is still waiting for her share of the $3000 find.

man's calm indifference to the outward shows of pomp and authority and his apparent determination to stay carefully within the limits of the power defined for the mission by act of Congress.

Day By Day Attacks

Something most Americans fail to realize is that Communist and other opposition newspapers are printed here without any restriction on what they say. Day in and day out they attack the American mission in the familiar jargon—dollar imperialism, support of the Monarcho-Fascist government of Greece.

An interesting object lesson in democracy is to see Griswold face the combined press of Athens at his weekly press conference. Communists representing Rizospastis and the Soviet news agency, Tass, fire all sorts of questions at him and he replies with unemotional detachment. It is the kind of lesson that might in time get through even to the sealed world inhabited by the Stalinist-Marxist mentality.

Griswold has a separate press conference each week for American correspondents to whom at times he may want to speak frankly off the record. He has been criticized for excluding the British correspondents from this conference. But it seems to me a perfectly legitimate prerogative under the circumstances.

Made Job Tougher

Factors entirely beyond his control have made the director's job tougher since he arrived on the scene. The drought, so disastrous in its effect throughout Europe, has cut down Greek production of bread grains by an estimated 200,000 tons; perhaps as much as one-fourth of the total crop.

This is one reason it has been necessary to recast the mission budget, that food deficit, which must be made up in part at least if anything like stability is to be maintained here, will cut deeply into a total fund that is obviously small in comparison to the urgent needs of the country.

Gradually the impact of the American aid program is becoming evident. There are signs of greater stability and confidence. Members of the Greek government seem eager to cooperate with the mission. In fact, they appear often almost too eager to surrender authority to Americans. But for some time to come the signs of success will be best measured by a microscope. The terrible ravages of seven years of war and revolution cannot be repaired overnight, no matter how much the earnestness and the good will of the repair crew.

Will Seek G.O.P. Backing On Food Program Of Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Charles Luckman, chairman of the citizens' committee on food conservation, disclosed he will confer with Republican leaders to obtain 100 per cent backing of President Truman's food program.

Luckman made his announcement on leaving the White House Tuesday after a long conference with administration leaders.

The chairman said he will meet with the GOP chieftains during the afternoon.

Luckman said: "We will not embark upon any food program unless it has the full backing of both parties and all Americans."

"Obviously it could not succeed without such complete support."

Polio In State Said Decreasing

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The state health department today reported that outbreaks of infantile paralysis were "definitely on a downward trend" in Pennsylvania. State Epidemiologist William D. Schrack, Jr., said 346 cases of poliomyelitis had been reported to the health department this year. The figure compared with 195 reported in the same period in 1946, he added.

He pointed out only 31 cases were reported during the week ended yesterday compared with 40 cases during the preceding period and 65 two weeks ago.

"The incidence rate of poliomyelitis appears to be tapering off," he asserted. "The department feels that the peak season has passed."

He said the average expectancy was higher this year than last but was far below 1945 when more than 780 persons were stricken with the dread disease.

Governor Hails Optimist Clubs

HARRISBURG, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Gov. James H. Duff today hailed activities of Optimist Clubs of Pennsylvania and urged citizens of the Commonwealth to observe "Optimist Week" October 5-11. "Because of the civic and welfare activities of the organization, Optimist week should not be limited to members of the 30 clubs in Pennsylvania," Duff asserted.

"Through their activities as 'Friends of the Boy', the Optimist Clubs are performing an important service in combating juvenile delinquency. There is no more important service for the public good than efforts to reduce juvenile delinquency in these troubled post-war days."

Present Year Shows Increase
Of $4,863.25 Over Same
Period Of Last Year

Parking meters here, of which there are 416, are paying off, and so far this year receipts are $4,863.25 ahead of receipts for the same period of 1946, when the 12 months yielded $32,878.25.

May was the biggest 1947 month, motorists having paid $3,821. Other large payments this year follow: January $3,296.50, April $3,096, June $3,083.50, July $3,032.50, and August $3,022.

In fact, parking receipts this year have fallen below $2,000 only in February and March.

During 1946, the biggest month was December, $3,531 having been fed into the "slots". In October $3,510 was paid for parking and in the same year, 1946, September yielded $3,180.50.

According to the report of Arthur Harris, collector of nickels and pennies, payments exceeded $3,000 only three in 1946, while this year six of eight months' receipts exceed $3,000.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The natural impulse is to associate Jeanne Crain with soft lights and soft music, but this ravishing young lady has other ideas about herself.

She revealed today she's long had a yen for a camera hunting trip into the wilds of darkest Africa.

"I've always wanted to take pictures there," Jeanne explained with eyes shining. She laid down a book by Osa Johnson, telling of her own experiences in Africa with her husband, Martin Johnson. Then Jeanne explained that her husband, Paul Brinkman, has long wanted to go on an African safari.

"With both of us having the same idea, it would be simply wonderful," Jeanne explained. "He could hunt with his guns and I could hunt with my camera."

Jeanne isn't sure when they'll be able to get away. Right now she's busy at 20th Century-Fox in "The Flamingo."

She isn't complaining, but she wishes the studio would give her a chance to play more dramatic roles than those she's had.

She said: "I've been playing such sweet young things. I'd like to do something, say like 'Meyerling'. I mention that because I did have a chance to play it."

"I've been in to the front office to talk about it, but they say to me, 'Jeanne, those things will come in time. You're young and you have lots of time.'"

Jeanne, only 21, sighed, but she'll find in time the studio is right.

Jane Greer, who generally plays bad and unhappy girls on the screen, wishes, too, she'd get a change of roles.

"I want more than anything else to play comedy," she said. At the moment Jane is portraying a very down to earth owner of a western saloon in RKO's "Station West". Of course, she has a heart of gold because all the bosses of western saloons—in movies, of course—are women with hearts of gold.

Jane explained: "I want to play comedy because I'm a happy person by nature. I'm always going around smiling and ready to tell a joke. But, Hollywood is an unhappy place, so it's inconceivable to people that I am as happy as I appear to be."

"They figure out that because I look so happy I must be putting on an act. They figure that actually I must really be unhappier than anyone else or otherwise I wouldn't be going around smiling."

"So, I end up with all these bad girl roles. Funny, isn't it?"

Pleads Guilty To Slaying Of 16-Year-Old Girl

MARION, O., Oct. 1.—(INS)—Ray A. Shappard, 32-year-old father of two children, pleaded guilty to first degree murder in the slaying of Roxie Ann Green, 16-year-old Prospect, O., schoolgirl.

Shappard entered his plea when he was arraigned before Marion Municipal Judge W. Dexter Hazen. He was ordered held without bond for the Marion grand jury.

The accused slayer of the girl was brought before Judge Hazen shortly after Sheriff Leroy Retterer had filed an affidavit charging him with first-degree murder. Shappard waived preliminary examination.

A confession by the neighbor of the murdered girl was announced after he had been questioned since Sunday. He then led authorities to the body of the girl, who had been missing since Sept. 19.

Before he filed the affidavit, the sheriff obtained a court stenographer to record a new, detailed confession from Shappard. Retterer said the new statement did not differ materially from the first confession.

SANITATION WEAPON AGAINST BRUCELLOSIS

Proper sanitation practices and isolation of the maternity barn, two measures which farmers can adopt themselves, help control brucellosis infection, or Bang's disease.

One of the most effective control measures is the provision for a maternity barn or shed where calves may be born well removed from the main herd. The actual distance is not so important as having a separate place with own equipment for feeding and watering.

Emphasizes that persons caring for the cow and calf in the maternity barn should wash their hands carefully with soap and water, and use a disinfectant on their boots and shoes. Also, when removing used bedding from the maternity barn, they should make sure there is no chance for contamination of pasture or feed through drainage or otherwise.

The building selected for maternity quarters should have a tight concrete floor. But the main point is to keep it sanitary, and to prevent contact of infective material with the main herd.

On farms where brucellosis is known, or thought to be present, the use of separate maternity quarters is safer than having calves born on pasture or near other cattle.

At the first sign of approaching calving, the cow should be put in the maternity barn and kept there until calving, and its after-effects are completely over.

nical course and graduated with high honors, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Oesterling of the Harbor-East Brook road.

Council Of Jewish Women Tea For Members On Anniversary

New Castle Section of the National Council of Jewish Women opened its 1947-48 season with a triple celebration: its annual membership tea; the twenty-fifth anniversary of its affiliation with the national body; and the fortieth anniversary of the founding of the Jewish Ladies Aid Society which in 1921 became the local council section, on Tuesday evening in Temple Israel.

The birthday gift to the section was the speaker representing the National Council of Jewish Women, Mrs. Alfred Katz, of Maplewood, N. J., introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. Alec Samuels.

A dynamic speaker, Mrs. Katz stirred her hearers with first hand tales of foreign scholarship students, chosen through merit by their home communities, who are being trained in social service in American universities. These women will return to their native lands to train others and to introduce social service on a democratic plane.

Locations of lost relatives abroad, service rendered at the ports of debarkation, the Ship-A-Box project, reports on the homes maintained for unattached girls in Athens and Paris all attested to her theme, the admonition "Love the Lord Thy God With All Thy Heart".

Greetings from the Lawrence County Federation of Womens Clubs of which the local section is a member, were brought by Mrs. Richard S. Marquis.

Mrs. David Routman, membership chairman, introduced 15 new members and presented them with flower boutonnieres made by the committee, and invited them to take part in council activities.

"Reminiscences of Forty Years Ago", a skit, pointed the way of progress from simple beginnings of a few women banding themselves together for charitable causes and widening their scope through study and action to exert an influence in community, nation and the world. Participants included four charter members, Mrs. David Frank, Mrs. Abe Marlin, Mrs. A. I. Wachs, Mrs. J. F. Perelman. The prologue and epilogue were given by Mrs. W. L. Cosel and Mrs. Norman Ehrlich. Mrs. Sol Weiner and Mrs. Irvin

Robins reported on the annual gathering of funds which will culminate in a charity ball Thanksgiving eve in the Field Club. A drive for used clothing and food-stuffs was announced for October.

Mrs. Daniel Fisher, president, invited guests to the refreshment table centered by a three-tiered birthday cake. Significant table decorations were arranged by Mrs. H. D. Plant—dolls dressed in the period of 1907 contrasted with those of 1947. Modes of travel and communication of the two periods were featured.

Mrs. George Kline, chairman of hostesses, was assisted by the officers and committee chairmen. The meeting was opened with the singing of the council hymn and a prayer by Mrs. Abe Cohen.

Armed Chicago Youth Attacks Young Mother

CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—(INS)—A youth armed with a knife who invaded the basement apartment of a young mother on Chicago's south-west side and committed a sex crime was sought by police today. His description answered that of the knife-slayer of Mrs. Gracelyn Bush, 32, minister's wife, who was stabbed to death in a south side parking lot a week ago. The attack victim, Mrs. Charles Clausen, 26, said the youth forced her to submit to his advances after he slashed her wrist and threatened to kill her two small children. Her husband was at work and her children asleep when she suddenly was confronted by the youth in her apartment last night. He had stolen in through an unlocked door.

The man took $1 from his victim's purse and fled. Her cries for help attracted neighbors, and police were summoned.

Mrs. Clausen was treated for cuts on her forearm at the St. Bernard hospital.

TWIN BIRTHDAYS

STELLA, Neb.—(INS)—Harry Rameil of Stella, and Mrs. Sherman Shiley of Verdon, Neb., believed to be the oldest twins in Richardson County, recently celebrated their 82nd birthday. Fifty guests attended the party. The twins have lived most of their lives in the county and have spent most of their birthdays together, alternating the parties between their homes each year.

Smoke Control Ordinance Law In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Pittsburgh's smoke control ordinance became law today but apparently it didn't mean a thing.

Thick black smog hung over the city during the morning and little black flakes fluttered around the air.

Clean clothing became soiled within a few hours and janitors continued their hourly rounds of cleanup.

However, Mayor David Lawrence, father of the smoke control law, was rather optimistic. He said:

"What do you expect on the first day—a miracle."

"It'll probably be two years before Pittsburgh doffs its reputation of the Smoky City."

The city council, so it seems, banked pretty strong on an immediate improvement. They estimated the city will save about $16,000,000 in health, cleaning and light bills.

The only comment from smoke prevention superintendent Sumner Ely was:

"I've got my 13 inspectors checking."

For decades sheep held the supremacy of the value of imports of New Zealand. During recent years, however, dairy products, butter and cheese, have taken first place on occasion. Sheep products included meat, wool, tallow, pelts, etc.

Legion Burial Detail Furthers Plans Tuesday Eve

At a meeting held Tuesday evening, in the Legion Home, organization of the Perry S. Gaston Post's burial detail, which will assist in conducting military funerals for the men being returned here for burial, who were killed overseas in the late war, and for conducting military rites for members of the post, was completed.

Officers elected by the detail, were: Commander, A. E. Walker; Lieut. Commander, Andrew Harcar; Adjutant, Don Crowl; and Finance Officer Dale Johnson.

The regular blouse uniform of the American Legion will be ordered at once and it is expected to have the detail fully equipped with uniforms within the next ten days.

A drill session will be held by the detail at Cunningham Armory next Tuesday evening.

No Resumption Of Price Controls Says Congressman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Rep. Wolcott (R) Mich., chairman of the House banking and currency committee, declared today that there is little Congress can do to halt rising prices.

Wolcott predicted "there'll be no resumption of price controls." He added:

"There is no question but that increased production is the only answer to high prices. To restore price controls would be to stymie production, the opposite of what we want."

Wolcott heads the committee which originated price control legislation in 1942. This is the group which would have to act on any restoration of controls.

TURQUOISE INDIANS

GALLUP, N. M.—(INS)—A wealthy Navajo Indian may wear thousands of dollars worth of turquoise and still not be overdressed. Use of turquoise dates back to the earliest history of many of the Pueblo Indian tribes, including the Navajo, Zuni and Hopi, and goes far deeper than mere ornamentation. The blue-green gems are treasured by the Indians above all other jewelry because they allegedly are endowed with the power to invoke the pleasure of their ancient gods.

Nectar, the beverage of the gods, was white as cream, for when Hebe spilt some of it, the white arch of heaven, called the Milky Way, was made. The food of the gods was ambrosia.

A tribe of elephant-hunting pygmies, who can run as fast as a deer and climb trees with a monkey's agility, is still hiding out from the white man in the Belgian Congo.

Newsman Ask U.N. To Embrace Free Press, Radio

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The United Nations had before it a recommendation from a committee of newsmen that the international organization embrace the principles of free press and radio. The recommendation was contained in the majority report by six members of a freedom of information committee of the Sigma Delta Chi journalistic fraternity to the U. N. economic and social council.

The report pointed out that without a free press and radio "people cannot be truly free."

"The Right to Know"
The report declared that the whole structure of human rights rests on "the right to know." It added:

"The important cornerstones upholding the archway to all freedoms are the right of free speech, the right to read and listen, the right to gather information and form opinions, the right to print and broadcast news and opinion, the right to disseminate news and opinion across international boundaries."

Six news executives signed the majority report. They were: Seymour Berkson, general manager of International News Service; Robert U. Brown, editor of Editor and Publisher; Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press; Donald D. Heaver, associate editor of the Indianapolis Times; John S. Knight, president of the Knight newspaper; and Richard Fitzpatrick, associate editor of The Quill. Hugh Baillie, president of the United Press Associations, filed the minority report which embodied substantially the same principles, but was phrased in different language.

The committee was appointed last November by George W. Hooley, Jr., managing editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune and president of Sigma Delta Chi.

Room Rental Responses Are Being Received

G.N.C.A. Gets Responses To Appeal For Rooms In Homes For Conventions

Responses to the appeal of the Greater New Castle Association for rooms in private homes for uses in the event of conventions here are beginning to come in. The response thus far has not been heavy but each day sees the total added increased.

The purpose of the appeal is to have on hand a list of homes where rooms can be rented temporarily, for use of convention visitors. Like all cities under the metropolitan size, New Castle can handle conventions only by the use of private homes.

Under the plan of the GNCA, housewives would be given plenty of notice before they are called upon for rooms and rooms would be assigned only after it was made certain the guest would be acceptable.

The annual state convention of the state grange will be held here in October and will attract hundreds to the city. J. C. Wachtman, executive vice president of the GNCA, hopes the response will be heavier in order that an adequate pool of rentable rooms will be on file in the offices.

Assistant Secretary of State Norman Armour, in a formal note, advised Polish Ambassador Josef Winiewicz that continued failure over a two-year period of Soviet Russia to agree on treatment of Germany as a whole had forced British and American hands.

After reviewing the efforts dating back to 1945 to obtain a big-four agreement treating Germany as a single economic unit, Armour declared:

"Pending achievement of this goal, the United States government has been called upon, at great expense to the American public, to sustain on a minimum subsistence basis on a non-self-supporting area of Germany."

"The American people have been extremely patient in submitting for so long to this situation, which would not have persisted if Germany had been treated as an economic entity."

Elks Contribute $500 To Band Fund

Exalted Ruler Moser Turns Over Check To Aid In Sending Band To Bethlehem

That word "Benevolent" in the full name of the Elks lodge, "Benevolent Protective Order of Elks" wasn't put in just to get an eight cylinder adjective. It means just what it says and today Lodge No. 69, the New Castle lodge, gave another tangible demonstration of it.

Acting upon behalf of the lodge, Exalted Ruler Fred D. Moser today turned over a check for $500 to the committee raising the fund to send the Senior High school band to Bethlehem on Thanksgiving Day.

"It's a pleasure to aid this worthy project," said Mr. Moser. "We have a fine high school band, one of the best in the country, and we want to let the Bethlehem people see what a fine band it is. Naturally it takes money to send them down and the Elks want to share the expense and the satisfaction."

The Elks' contribution of $500 shoots the fund total up to about $1900 and with this outstanding example of civic pride, it is thought other organizations may aid also.

Chairman Edward Raney today announced a meeting of the Band committee for Thursday night, October 2 in the Castleton hotel at eight o'clock. "This meeting is open to any one interested in sending the band to Bethlehem," said he. "It is also open to representatives of any organizations, civic or fraternal that wish to send representatives."

Believe it or not, but traces of snow were noticed a year ago yesterday here. According to a couple of local men, who returned from Canada the other day, it snowed almost all day long a week ago Monday there.

The first real killing frost of the fall occurred last night. There have been touches of frost earlier in the month, but they did not kill off anything but tender vegetation. Last night's freeze cooked almost everything. The minimum temperature at the U. S. Weather Observing Station was 28 degrees, but lower temperatures were noted during the night in other places.

D. W. Byers, East street, who retired following long service with the paid fire department, will have a birthday Sunday—his eighty-seventh. He will be the guest of his son, F. E. Byers, at 1477 Wyandotte avenue, Lakewood, Ohio.

There were 116 babies born at the Jameson Memorial hospital during the month of September, of which 62 were boys and 54 were girls. This is a drop from the number born during September of 1945 when 137 babies were born at the Jameson Memorial hospital.

Female and male births at the New Castle hospital were at a tie for the month of September with 28 male and 28 female infants being born, making a total of 56 infants.

ARMY BEGINS BRINGING BODIES OF WAR DEAD HOME

thing possible" was being done by the army to assure the handling of the war dead "in accordance with the dignity which a man who gave his life for his country deserves."

Col. Sharp commands the depot where the caskets will be inspected and held pending instructions from the next of kin.

He emphasized that next of kin may call in person for a body, but he added:

"The privilege (of calling in person) is not denied; nor is it exercised encouraged."

First Arrival October 25

Col. Sharp said the first ship bearing eastern war dead is due to arrive in New York Oct. 25. Remains will travel from New York to Philadelphia in special mortuary cars attended by honor guards. There will be 66 bodies to a car, Col. Sharp said.

Two huge warehouses have been prepared at the depot in Philadelphia to handle a combined capacity of 2,800 bodies.

Col. Sharp said that individual bodies will be contained in specially designed, hermetically sealed stainless steel caskets, each weighing about 400 pounds.

Each casket in turn will be protected by a stainless steel-lined shipping case.

Col. Sharp explained that a casket will be delivered to out-of-town destinations via rail or highway, whichever the next of kin desires.

In Philadelphia, 66 special vehicles will deliver the caskets to a cemetery, a funeral parlor, or a family home. An honor guard accompanying each body, Col. Sharp said, would, if requested, attend any funeral held within 72 hours of the arrival of the body at its destination.

PRESIDENT CALLS ON ENTIRE NATION FOR FOOD SAVING

mittee that strict conservation of edibles should "bring down some food prices, and hence reduce the cost of living" but cutting down the demand for certain foods.

He declared that the European food crisis must be dealt with "quickly and decisively." Thus, he said, much depends upon compliance with the voluntary conservation measures the committee will propose.

The chief executive made it emphatically clear that food conservation must be achieved through equitable sharing by all Americans and "not by increasing prices so that the brunt of the sacrifice will be borne by those least able to buy food."

Mr. Truman declared that the American people waste an estimated ten percent of all the food they buy. He added:

"Clearly, by wasting less, American families can help significantly in feeding hungry families abroad. In addition to cutting down waste, Americans can save by being more selective in the foods they buy."

Addresses Committee
The president addressed the organization meeting of the food conservation committee this morning at the White House.

The president said that "we must deal with the problem quickly and decisively" and that "much depends" upon the voluntary rationing program being formulated by the food committee.

The committee's voluntary program will be made public later today.

Mr. Truman said that the United States can plan to export only about 470 million bushels of grain under present conditions.

He declared that there is strong evidence that the United States will have to export at least 100 million bushels more grain than now appears available.

Need 100 Million Bushels
The chief executive added:

"This 100 million bushels must be saved by the American people. This is our minimum goal. We know that only part of that saving can come from serving fewer slices of bread."

"The greater part of the saving must come out of what we feed our livestock. We must also save out of what we waste, and out of what we use in a score of ways for human food."

The president emphasized that food conservation must be achieved through equitable sharing by all American citizens, and "not by increasing prices so that the brunt of the sacrifice will be borne by those least able to buy food."

Discuss Sending Articles To Vets In VA Hospitals

Community Aid To Camps, Hospitals Revival Spurred At Tuesday Meeting

Ten service organizations of the city were represented Tuesday evening at the Red Cross chapter house as plans were discussed to revive the community aid to camps and hospitals.

L. H. Lukehart, Red Cross area field worker, told of the need for materials at VA hospitals in Butler and Aspinwall and explained how the local organizations could aid in this work.

There will be no duplication, he pointed out, since projects now in effect by clubs and groups will continue. It is hoped to enlarge the effort.

Clubs wishing to send gifts to hospitalized vets will receive full credit for them and the Red Cross will simply act as a clearing house for such donations.

Samuel Rashid, committee chairman, stated that he is anxious to stimulate this practice once more and wishes to include all the service groups in the county.

Next meeting will be Monday, Oct. 6, at the Nixon hotel, Butler, it was announced.

PROBE INTO EXPENSES

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Insurance Commission today probed into the affairs of the strife-torn Croation Fraternal Union with special emphasis on convention expenses.

Insurance Commissioner James F. Malone, Jr., sent in his ace trouble shooter, Oscar A. Kottler, to inquire into the money used for the unions' recent 11-day convention. The 307 delegates received $20 a day plus traveling expense.

Malone, who wants to determine if any insurance funds had been used for the session, said the cost of the 11-day meeting was met by a special assessment of $1.50.

West Virginia's elevation ranges from 240 feet above sea level at Harpers Ferry to 4,860 feet at Spruce Knob. Its mean elevation is 1,500 feet, the highest of any state east of the Mississippi river.

Two former navy LCIS, a tank barge and a flat barge, took off from their mooring in Pittsburgh yesterday and ran wild in the Allegheny river. They came to a halt when they rammed into the river bank near Lawrenceville.

Police said the boats were cut loose from their moorings by a couple of pranksters.

MUSICAL PORTRAITS

October 30th

A beautifully costumed, artistic presentation of the best known works of the famous composers in opera and operetta. This intriguingly new and delightful group presents something for every musical taste from sophisticated to layman.

It will present the lulling melodies of such beloved composers as Victor Herbert, Rudolph Friml, Sigmund Romberg, Richard Strauss, Jerome Kern and others. Each episode is a complete miniature operetta with a story all its own; the locales reach all the way from the mythical forests of Zuvavia to rehearsal studios in a big city.

For those who like grand opera there will be Operalogue bringing the most exquisite music from La Traviata, Manon, La Boheme, La Gioconda, etc.

The artists in this distinctive musical organization are: John Hurley, Tenor; Eleanor Warner, Soprano; Elaine Mark, Dancuse; Boris Zlatich, Violinist; Stephanie Novicky, Pianist.

Piero Pierotic—Baritone

November 13th

PIERO PIEROTIC, Dalmatian baritone of concert, radio and opera fame abroad, made his initial bow to a New York audience in Carnegie Chamber Music Hall in October, 1940. Mr. Pierotic claims no child-prodigy reputation, for it was after his years in school and college when he was a marine officer in the Jugo-Slavian navy, that the Chicago opera tenor, Tino Pattiera, famous in Europe (Berlin, Dresden, Vienna, Prague, etc.) "discovered" him and advised him to study in Vienna and Rome with the celebrated baritone, Riccardo Stracclari.

He made his operatic debut in Czechoslovakia, was engaged by the Dresden Opera, sang in radio, concert and opera performances in European capitals and finally became a member of the state opera in Vienna where he made a deep impression in the baritone roles of Traviata, Boheme, Pagliacci, Cavalleria, Rigoletto and The Masked Ball.

His programs are made doubly interesting through the inclusion of a group of Dalmatian songs.

Rizzo Accordion Quartet

January 6th

For the first time in musical history four professional piano accordion concert artists will tour, presenting the best in classical and semi-classical music especially arranged by Andrew Rizzo of Chicago, famous "teacher of teachers" of the piano accordion.

The accordion as a concert instrument is new, and in the hands of an artist has great possibilities. The instrument of today is as far removed from the early accordion as the grand piano of today is superior to the harpsichord.

You will be reminded of the deep tones of the organ or the muted strings of the violin as you listen to Schubert's Ave Maria or the famous "Intermezzo" from Cavalleria Rusticana. Again you will hear the swelling notes of orchestras in the "Anvil Chorus" from Il Trevatore or the "Pilgrim's Chorus" from Tannhauser. In short you will thoroughly enjoy the first and only professional accordion quartette.

CHAMPIONS KEEP GOING, SO DO FEDERAL TRUCKS

It's that last ounce of effort that makes a champion. That little extra bit of quality and endurance that makes him a champion. A champion in any line keeps going, he never quits.

Same way with Federal trucks. They have that little extra measure of durability, of quality that stands them out over ordinary trucks like a champion does over a second rater.

New York Yankees Have Edge As World Series Play Continues

Allie Reynolds, Vic Lombardi To Start On Mound

Yanks Take Opener Tuesday By Fifth Inning Rally, Shea Given Credit For Win

By DAVID J. WALSH
(International News Service Sports Writer)
NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Windy old Boreas, caustic as always, is putting on an appropriate, 40-degree chill today for the sedately pensive Yanks and Brooklyn as the 1947 World Series gets ready for its second or more perfunctory stage.

This mild intra-tribal function, erroneously alluded to in advance as extreme internecine warfare, was to be resumed at the appointed hour of 1:30 p. m., with much of the original shooting-script intact. Same teams, same starting time, same place—the Yankee stadium, ganged to the runways with the same record 73,365 crowd.

Reynolds Vs. Lombardi

The only worthwhile differences will be three in number, including pitchers, namely, Allie Reynolds for the Yankees, and Vic Lombardi, for the temporarily miffed and discomfited Dodgers. The other pair of overnight alterations, readily discernible, affected the odds and the weather.

The latter was running a low temperature, down around a sub-freezing 31 in some of the outlying districts during the early morning hours. But it had nothing on yesterday's pastime, which was surpassing low in everything save receipts.

New Record Gate

These, in fact, hit a new single-game record of $325,828.70, for World Series play, while the Yanks were dwindling along to a 5-3 opening day decision.

As a result, the Yanks went all the way to 3-1 in the betting on a four-out-of-seven game basis and even rated an 8-5 price for today's second game. However, the first-game behavior of neither principal was anything that might seem likely to restore international confidence on a sound footing.

Matter of Fact

There were strangely calm throughout. They seemed to be playing it in straight-ahead pantomime. They were to the end placid flaccid and strictly from malnutrition.

Even the defeated Dodgers suffered no outward pangs or excess of zeal after seeing Ralph Branca deftly through his man-overboard routine in a calamitous fifth inning.

FOOTBALL WEATHER FOR SERIES TODAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—(INS)—October ushered in more "football weather," after a frost-bitten night in the suburbs, for the second game of the world series today.

It was fair, cool and sparkling, with a high temperature of only about 55 predicted for the afternoon.

Titans Seeking Better Offense

Coach Mel Hetzler Sends Weilgus To Halfback Spot, Is Speedy Back

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Coach Mel Hetzler, plainly disgusted with the performance of his Titans in their 6-0 loss Saturday to Slippery Rock, is sending the footballers through rough two-hour drills the remainder of the week in preparation for their invasion of Huntingdon Saturday to meet Juniata college.

In effort to strengthen the backfield and add needed power to the offense, Hetzler has promoted Weilgus, McKees Rocks flash, from the number two fullback slot behind Joe Demoise to a halfback. Weilgus is a fancy stepper with a fair amount of speed, and should add some diversification to the Titan attack.

Played Tie In 1946

Bob McDaniels, who was on and off the injury list all during pre-season practice, is nursing a pulled knee ligament as a result of the Rocket game. It is not known whether the speedy halfback will be ready for action in the Juniata fray.

Last Fall the Titans and the Redskins from Central Pennsylvania played to 6-6 tie at Farrell.

Skeet, Trapshoot To Be Held Tonight

Trap and skeet shoot will be held by the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association at their traps, on the association farm tonight. Shooting will begin at 7:30 p. m. and members are urged to bring a friend to participate in the event.

Pitt Not Soft Touch For Irish

Notre Dame Scouts Says 'Pitt Has Fighting Team', Play In Pitt Stadium Saturday

By CHARLES EINHSTEIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)
CHICAGO, Oct. 1.—The first of nine batches of sympathy cards may be mailed today.

The tender words should be directed to ranking football players at the University of Pittsburgh, who on Saturday will serve as persecuted straight men when Notre Dame opens its football campaign.

On subsequent Saturdays thereafter merciful remarks must be addressed to willing youths at Purdue, Nebraska, Iowa, Navy, Army, Northwestern, Tulane and Southern California. These teams form the path of the hurricane from South Bend, Ind., and storm cellars are at a premium.

Pitt Has Fight

Moose Krause, assistant coach who scouted Pitt at Champaign, Ill., has this to say about Notre Dame's first opponent:

"Pitt has a lot of fight and is the kind of a team which is bound to improve. The Panthers weren't soft for Illinois. With another week to get ready for us, they'll be tough."

Head Coach Frank Leahy feels the same way, as he sends gifts like Lujack, Connor, Strohmeyer, Gomers, Sitko, Brennan, Wendell and Martin through their practice chores.

The trouble with the coaches at Notre Dame is they don't know when they're not whipped.

And this is one of those times.

Altoona Game To Start At 2:30 P. M.

Faculty Manager Robert Mills received word today from Altoona High that the New Castle-Altoona game Saturday will start at 2:30 o'clock, instead of 2 the original starting time.

Quite a large New Castle crowd is planning to follow the "Red Hurricane" team to the home of the Mountain Lions. The New Castle team will leave for Altoona at noon on Friday, it was announced. The team will be quartered in a small community near Altoona Friday night.

Coulby Gunther, star forward with the Pittsburgh Ironmen in the Basketball Association of America last year, has signed as player-coach with the Atlanta, Ga., team of the new World Pro League.

Cold Weather Puts Halt To Night Baseball

Columbus Club And Lawrence Indies Resume Series Next Sunday At Flaherty Field

Night baseball in New Castle for 1947 has come to an end, it was announced today, owing to the cold evenings, and so the Columbus Club and Lawrence Indies will resume their city championship series next Sunday afternoon at Flaherty Field. The game will start at 3 o'clock.

New Castle took to night baseball this summer in a grand manner, and will continue to do so for years to come, but the fans will not attend these cold evenings. Night baseball is strictly a warm weather pastime.

Series Stands Even

As the teams roar into the third game of the series, the standing is all even at one apiece, the Columbus Club won the opener at Flaherty Field 17 to 3, the Indies won the second game on the no-hitter pitched by the veteran Johnny Russu.

In the event of a nice sunny day Sunday Flaherty Field will be packed for the series resumption. This is the "edge" game. Both teams will be trying hard for the win.

The series will go back to the Indies Chmura Recreation Field on the following Sunday, October 12, where the series could end if one team takes the next two. This is a best out of five series for the city title.

It will likely be another Shaffer vs Russu pitching battle next Sunday. It should be a humdinger.

Pitt Can Field Full First Team

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Barring scrimmage injuries, Pitt's Panthers will have their first string lineup ready for Saturday's opener against Notre Dame in Pittsburgh.

Coach Mike Milligan said Tony Dimatteo, whose eye was completely closed in last week's game against Illinois, will be ready and that Bob Plotz and Wilbur Forsythe are certain starters.

Plotz suffered a broken nose during training and was used as a starter against Illinois. Forsythe, long underweight, is ready to go.

Ring Solons To Clarify Rules

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania boxing commission will decide today whether to continue a war-time ban on all fighters and wrestlers dishonorably discharge from military service.

Leon Rains, chairman of the commission, said he called the meeting to "clarify the rules."

It was not known whether that meant lifting the ban or merely loosening it a bit.

The commission meeting follows the outlawing by the Illinois State Athletic Commission of all promoters, managers, fighters and wrestlers with shady war records.

Steelers Prepare For Redskins Game

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Still smarting under the 46-7 thumping they received from the Los Angeles Rams Monday night, the Pittsburgh Steelers today went through extensive blocking and passing for their contest Sunday with the Washington Redskins at Washington.

Coach Jack Sutherland, who suffered the worst defeat in his professional football coaching career, said he hoped to improve his squad in both blocking and passing before their battle with the "Skins."

Buttermore Suffers Fatal Heart Attack

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 1.—(INS)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for William J. Buttermore, 47, former Connelleville high school football ace and assistant football coach at Long Island U., who died Tuesday, relatives reported.

Death was caused by a heart attack.

After leaving the Connelleville high school, Buttermore played with the Connelleville Toronados and then received a bid as assistant mentor at Long Island.

Titan Harriers Meet Geneva Next

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 1.—Seeking their second consecutive win, the Westminster college cross country team will journey to Geneva College Wednesday afternoon.

Coach Harold Barry will rely on Renny Jackson, Don Yourd, and John Wilson to pull the Titans out in front. The trio finished one-two-three against Slippery Rock last week.

An interesting highlight on this baseball season is the utter lack of respect among pitchers for the potential record-breaking bat wielded by big John Mize of the New York Giants. They pitch to him.

Huge Crowd Sees Yankee-Dodger World Series Opener

Crowd that taxes capacity of Yankee stadium in New York watches Ed Stanky, Brooklyn lead-off man, come to bat in first inning of the Dodge-Yankee World Series. Attendance of 73,365 set a World Series record.

Billy Pozza Wins 'T-Kayo'

Stops Bob Everett Of Pittsburgh In Second; Turns Pro' Today

Billy Pozza of Ellwood City scored a technical knockout over Bob Everett of Pittsburgh in the second round in Lincoln high school gym, Ellwood City, last night.

Everett, with a longer reach, annoyed Pozza in the first but in the second, Pozza dropped Everett for a count of nine. He got up only to be sent down again.

When he arose Everett was in a fog and Referee Sam Leyschok stopped, and awarded the fight to Pozza.

Chuck Gibbons, Ellwood City, captured the nod over Johnny Paolletti of Akron in a toe-to-toe slugfest which went three sessions. They are lightweight.

Jim Gillespie, Akron, lost the decision in their three round bout to Pete Misto of Youngstown, in the 155 pound class.

Rudy Flowers, Homestead, was knocked out by Ronald Delaney, of Akron, in the second round. The bell saved Flowers in the first round. It was a fast fight. They are lightweight.

Ray Rocco Wins

Johnny Wright, Ellwood City, 'kayode' Johnny Minter, Ellwood City in the second. He was down twice and groggy. The referee stopped the fight which was at 165.

Mike Gisondi, Ellwood City, won an unpopular award over Herb Jackson of Akron. It was a slow, 135 pound fight and the decision drew a salvo of boos.

Ray Rocco, Ellwood City, 'kayode' Johnny Casey of Barberton, O., at 118, in the first round. He had too many gloves for Casey. Jim Marshall dropped a decision to Red Renau of Chawton in three rounds.

Officials were: Timekeeper, Billy Fazzone, New Castle; Judges, Anton Conti, Ellwood City and Tom-mach Lench, New Castle; Referee, Sam Leyschok and announcer, Bill Vogt.

It was announced just before the main bout that Pozza was fighting his last battle as an amateur and would turn professional.

Floor Meeting Thursday Night

There will be a meeting at the Arena Thursday evening at 7 o'clock for all those interested in the formation of a fast basketball league here this winter.

Wabash Bears At Monaca Tonight

New Castle's strong semi-pro football team, the Wabash Bears of Mahoningtown, will be followed by a large crowd tonight, as they go to the Monaca High field, for a night-battle with the Beaver Valley Patsys, formerly the Giants. The kickoff is slated for 8 o'clock.

President William Domenick of the Bears is confident that the 1947 team is one of the strongest that ever represented the organization. The team is coached by Blackie Adamo, former New Castle High star, and has a roster of former stars from Mississippi State, Pitt, West Virginia Wesleyan, and New Castle High.

The Bears will use the P. & L. E. field for their home field this year; it was announced by Domenick. Several of the strongest teams in eastern Ohio and western Pennsylvania will be brought here by the Bears.

Bronze Employees Sponsoring Buses

Joseph Daugherty, president of the Johnson Bronze Employees association announced today that the association is sponsoring two bus loads to the New Castle-Altoona game Saturday. For reservations call Johnny Sullivan at 6100, extension 36. This is open to the public. The fare will include a ticket for the game. There will be room for 70 persons.

Set Grid Opening For 1948 Season

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 1.—(INS)—The decisions committee today disclosed that Sept. 10 will be the first WPIAL football playing date allowed by the league next season.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

SHERIFF FRANK COEN, former game protector of Lawrence County, says he never experienced a hunting season like that of 1946, and he anticipates the coming season will not be much better "and the situation will exist until we rid the district of vermin," he explained. He said that progress has been made in killing off fox but hawks still claim their prey. He said he recently had his dogs out, and they only put up one rabbit, following which he said "there seems to be more game on the immediate outskirts of the city than in the rural districts."

Bo Smiley, pitcher, of South Wills, will be farmed out by Pittsburgh Pirates next spring. . . . The coming Lallo Sabotin vs. Ike Bell, light-heavyweight clash here, October 12, should prove as good as any main bout yet held in this city. Sabotin was given the Boxers' award for the Year by the Shenango Valley Boxers Association, and Ike Bell deicedon Elkins Brothers. . . . Skeet and trap-shoot will be held at 7:30 p. m. tonight at the farm of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association. . . . Despite the handicap of broken goggles, Mike Josephs of Philadelphia, won the second annual 50-lap national championship Midget auto race before 13,000 fans, in 23 minutes, 17.40 seconds at Williams Grove. . . . There were only two knockdowns in Monday's night's fistic whirls in The Arena. . . . Frank Coen, sheriff, and a local pitcher, has picked the Dodgers to take the series. . . . Things must be getting tough in the bandit world when they pick on sports writers, according to a dispatch from New York, which says "Milton J. Yelsky, sports writer for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, was tied to his bed, beaten and robbed of $140 early yesterday in his fifteenth floor room at the Hotel Savoy Plaza. An unidentified man he had met is being sought as the assailant. Yelsky was treated by a doctor for contusions of the right eye and possible fracture of the skull." . . . Duddey Mac, owned and handled by Joe Williams, won second place in the All Age stakes at Erie recently. . . . Sheriff Frank Coen, local ballplayer, says he played ball in three states on one day. It was while he was with Massillon. They played at Rock Springs, W. Va., in the morning, East Liverpool, O., in the afternoon, and at Midland, Pa., at 6 o'clock, the same day which was one July 4.

Oakland Sportsmen To Meet Tonight

Senator Taft Against Move For Price Control

EN ROUTE TO CHEYENNE WITH SEN. TAFT, Oct. 1.—(INS)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, (R) O., was ready today to face and fight a "left-wing demand" for restoration of price control when congress reconvenes.

But the senate leader and undeclared presidential candidate asserted that neither President Truman nor other "Democrats" are willing to endorse suggestions that price controls be renewed to halt the living cost spiral.

Heads For Cheyenne Taft headed for Cheyenne from Boise, Idaho, where he defended the GOP program in a speech which denounced Washington bureaucrats and "totalitarian government."

The Ohioan will deliver the final address of his six-state speaking tour in Jasper, Wyo., tomorrow night. It is scheduled to be a sharp criticism of the Truman administration's "failures" in office.

Taft served notice in Boise that he is opposed to any special session of congress before Dec. 1 for the purpose of providing emergency funds for distressed Europe. He said he thought "some ingenious person" could find the $80 million dollars asked by President Truman in funds held by government corporations.

ALLIE REYNOLDS, VIC LOMBARDI TO START ON MOUND

Briefly, he retired the first 12 men in order and held a 1-0 lead. Then he "washed out" with the 13th—and, from that point, went the way down the drain in a five-run deluge during which the Yanks did everything but hit. It probably meant the end of 21-game Branca as a starting pitcher for the rest of the event.
